What are the best newsletter platforms

I have been thinking about creating a monthly or bi-monthly newsletter but have yet to really do it. First, let's find the right platform. Here is my research for finding the right platform.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. Beehiiv
2. Buttondown
3. Listmonk - opensource and self-hosted
4. Other Newsletter Providers

Please note that Mailchimp and Substack are two major products in this category, but they are much more than simple newsletter platforms, so I don't cover them here.

AI REVIEW PASSED.

Beehiiv

Beehiiv is another popular newsletter platform that provides tools to help you grow your audience and streamline your workflow. It has some unique features, such as an AI writing assistant that can help generate content and improve your writing efficiency. It also offers a referral program, custom email journeys, and a suite of growth tools used by some of the world's largest newsletters.

While Buttondown and Beehiiv have some similarities, Beehiiv offers more advanced features, particularly with its AI capabilities and focus on audience growth.

Even though I have never sent a single issue, I did use this to create a list and had plans to send out a newsletter but never got around to doing it. Beehiiv is a pretty simple platform, IMHO.
